

RAISE VOTING AGE TO 21?

AN 18-YEAR-OLD CAN DIE FOR THEIR COUNTRY?

Most 18-year olds don't even join the military, and for those who did join over the last 50 years, many didn't even see a combat zone for one reason or another, like there wasn't a war going on at the time, (as opposed to WW2.) And Selective Service is not the same as enlisting in the military and entering a combat zone.

Heck, most don't have a real job or pay taxes and still are needing and/or demanding a taxpayer-funded service.

BIG TALK versus COMBAT ZONE

Until the 18-year old actually enlists and goes through boot camp AND is scheduled to enter a combat zone, and hence, actually puts their life on the line for America should they be able to Vote at Age 18. Otherwise, the saying, "An 18-year-old can die for their country," is just Talk, not Action. - Big Difference.

And if they don't enter a combat zone, or are scheduled to enter a combat zone, the Age to Vote Nationwide should be raised to at least 21. And if they committed a juvenile crime, raise it to 25.
