

DEATH PENALTY vs LIFE SENTENCE

(1) First, these career criminals already know they will be back in prison just like it was in the past 10, 20, or 30 years of their lives. They also know the Death Penalty is In-Name-Only Justice as when was the last time you heard of a state execution? Hence, a Life Sentence means nothing to them as they have already planned to be back in prison for the rest of their lives anyway.

(2) Second, because these murderers are almost always Career Criminals, they have a long list of enemies on the street. Hence, taking out one of their enemies and getting a Life Sentence would be a Win-Win for them as a Life Sentence would protect them from retaliation from their many street enemies, who are also being murdered aka "street justice". - Do you see how the Career Criminal's thinking is very different than a Law-Abiding citizen? Being back out on the street means street justice for them.

(3) Hence, this is why a Life Sentence has NOT been a deterrent to criminals. In fact, a Life Sentence does the opposite, and rewards their killings by protecting them from Retaliation Street Justice.
